PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Deadhang Labor LLC provides hands-on live-event labor and production support for large festival builds, arenas, stadiums, touring productions, corporate events, and temporary outdoor production sites. Owner/operator Aaron Bowman brings field experience across staging and structures, load-in/load-out, lighting, audio, video, scenic/carpentry support, spotlight work, truck loading, and general production support. Experience includes both field production and warehouse/prep environments, supporting projects from equipment preparation and logistics through onsite build, show support, strike, and load-out.

The business is positioned for extended travel projects, multi-week festival builds, and recurring production runs across the United States. Work is approached with clear communication, strong jobsite awareness, respect for department leads, and a focus on doing assigned work correctly rather than guessing.
